Daylight Saving

With the discussion now going on throughout the state regarding daylight saving, many have lost the history of the plan and what it has done in foreign countries. The following gives a brief history and of the saving it would accomplish if adopted throughout the United States:

The idea of Daylight Saving was devised for the purpose of obtaining one hour more of sunlight in the day during the summer. The plan is to "set the clock ahead" one hour in the summer months—in the North Hemisphere, from May 1 to October 1—so that an hour of sunlight may be substituted for an hour of artificial light.

William Willet, an Englishman, is the father of the movement. In 1907 he published a booklet entitled "The Waste of Daylight." Efforts were made to enact the plan as a law in the House of Commons, but it failed of passage on the grounds that it was needless, deceptive and confusing.

The German Federal Council, however, saw its hygienic and economic possibilities and passed a measure providing that on May 1, 1916, all clocks in the empire should be set ahead one hour. Other countries have since followed and within three months Holland, Austria, Turkey, England, France, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Italy, Switzerland, Spain and Portugal adopted it. In 1918, the United States was the first to introduce it in America. England took it up as a war measure, for the purpose of saving the coal supply for naval and military purposes.

The change was made without any resulting confusion. The people of the countries in which it has been adopted get one hour more of sunlight, an important health consideration; they take an hour less under an artificial light, a saving to the eyes and health, and there is an enormous economic saving to the country in coal, gas and electricity. It is estimated that Great Britain is saving $12,000,000 in gas and electricity light bills in a season alone. It is figured that if the United States were to adopt the Daylight Saving Plan, the saving would amount to $1,500,000 annually in gas alone.

His Annual Trip
Upland's pioneer physician as well as this city's pioneer motorist is off for his annual motor hunt. Dr. W. H. Craig was probably the first owner of an automobile here, and from those early days of motoring from Los Angeles to New York City he has been enjoying about thirty days of motor traveling and camp life. This year he is driving a camel, that is, his car is a Franklin, and Dr. Craig finds that the difference between his trips nowadays and in the days gone by is that he doesn't have to work so hard for his passage. Keeping the early day motor cars going over the roads of the country was a man's job in itself, while today the good roads and modern motor cars make the trip less strenuous. Yellowstone and Glacier National Park are to be visited this year, and in the party are A. P. Harwood, Dick Williams, Herbert Williams, Tom Craig and Dr. W. H. Craig, with two machines doing the transportation act.

"Good-bye"
Owners of mountain resorts in San Antonio Canyon have erected an imposing gateway near the old toll-gate, informing those who pass through that they are on the way to Camp Elgin, Ice House Canyon and other resorts, all of which are excellent, but on the return trip the motorist is hit in the eye by this: "Good-bye—Come Again." To those familiar with the English language, the sign is rather far from the mark, for the most would see to it that the sign writer goes back and adds an "e" to the "Good-bye" it would at least be correct and convey to everyone the intended idea.

One of Our Own Sons
Those who were listening in Saturday evening on the radio concert being broadcast by the Examiner of Los Angeles, heard pupils of one of Upland's own sons give a most excellent concert. A girls' glee club, as well as piano pupils entertained folks of radio land, and all of those taking part are pupils of Otto Hirschler, formerly of Upland, who is instructor of music in the high school.

FUMIGATION TO START EARLY THIS YEAR

The citrus growers in the Upland district are to start fumigation operations early in August this year. Five thousand acres were fumigated last year by the Growers Fumigation Supply Co., but on account of the good condition of the orchards this year they do not expect to cover so large an acreage. The best condition and producing the best crops were those that were fumigated early last season and then sprayed later on. This has been shown to be the case by a careful check of the orchards in that district.

Trying to live today and tomorrow at the same time brings on what the doctors call anxiety neurosis.

BOOTLEGGER PLOT
NIPPED IN BUOY BY
SHERIFF'S MENETIWANDA MAN NOT POP-ULAR WITH BOOT-
LEGGERS

Placing Liquor in Yard Fails to Get Results. Second Attempt to Put Orendorff Under Suspicion.

Plot by bootleggers to involve Deputy Sheriff D. Orendorff of Etiwanda in a violation of the federal liquor laws was bared Saturday, when prohibition enforcement officers, warned by anonymous sources, searched his ranch and found five gallons of wine within 200 yards of his home.

A plot was suspected two weeks ago when Officer Orendorff, the sworn enemy of bootleggers, combined in the vineyard district, found nearly 10 gallons of liquor "planted" under a haystack near his barn. Officer Orendorff brought the liquor to Sheriff Walter A. Shay's office and a probe was instituted.

Map Had Been Furnished
Sensing a "frame-up" when told of the deputy sheriff's activity against bootleggers throughout the district, the federal officers informed Orendorff of their mission when they arrived at his home. Using a map of his ranch, furnished the federal office by mysterious sources, the officers quickly found the "planted" liquor in an irrigation ditch 200 yards from the Orendorff home on Etiwanda Avenue, three-quarters of a mile from the Foothill Boulevard. The liquor, in a five-gallon demijohn, was wrapped in sacks and concealed under weeds.

The "planted" liquor may be the means of identifying the plotters, the federal officers declared last night, as it will be analyzed by chemists and the report compared with those of confiscated liquor on file in Sheriff Shay's office.

Sheriff Says More Than Joke
"It's more than a joke," said Sheriff Shay. "It is simply a stunt by bootleggers that were forced to keep jumping by Deputy Sheriff Orendorff's work in the Etiwanda district. I suspected that a 'stunt' was on two weeks ago when Officer Orendorff discovered the 'planted' booze near his barn."

The federal officers will co-operate with Sheriff Shay in a probe of the plot, already well under way and pointing toward suspicious characters.

When the first liquor was found by Orendorff, that officer notified Sheriff Shay, and the latter instructed him to make every effort to apprehend the men involved in the "plant." The instructions of the sheriff to the constable were that the offenders were to be shot if such means were necessary to capture them. No one appeared, however, and Orendorff brought the liquor to the sheriff's office. Then yesterday developed the new plant.

Chamber of Commerce Bulletin
Daylight Saving

Do we want Daylight Saving? Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and other organizations are trying to get an expression from the people through the different Chambers of Commerce.

This is a very important question, as Southern California is facing a power shortage and the power companies are urging that everyone assist in effecting a saving of power.

This organization would like an expression from the citizens of Upland, whether you are in favor of, or against, Daylight Saving, provided it could be made State-wide.

Some of the points voiced in favor of this proposition by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce are as follows:

1. Was successful as conservation measure during the war, and is good for the same purpose in peace times.
2. Promotes labor efficiency and economy of power.
3. Gives more outdoor life and opportunity for healthful recreation.
4. Has been voluntarily adopted in many Eastern industrial cities either on the initiative of communities or under permissive state laws.
5. Has proved popular under every test in the Eastern communities during the past five years, notwithstanding that railroad time and the time of competing cities and localities have not been changed.
6. Daylight Saving is, therefore, a question to be decided by the temper of the people without regard to National practice.
7. It is peculiarly adapted to Pacific Coast areas because of invariable cool nights during the summer months and because of long periods of daylight before working hours under Standard Time and short daylight, dusk, and twilight after present working hours; also, because Coast Standard Time is already from one to four hours slower than customary time in Eastern localities.
8. The patronage of motion picture theatres would be less affected on the coast than in the East where daylight saving is now in effect, and where open air motion picture theatres prevail.

O. P. Brady and Little Matched in Finals. C. C. Peabody Rated as one of Red Hill's Best Golfers beaten by Little

Clifford Little, known among his relatives and friends of the family as "Kibbo," has an excellent opportunity to win the president's cup in the Red Hill Country Club annual president's cup tournament.

With their handicaps of the family as "Kibbo," has an excellent opportunity to win the president's cup in the Red Hill Country Club annual president's cup tournament.

O. P. Brady defeated Hjalmar Anderson Saturday thus leaving Brady and Little as contenders for the President's cup. Many excellent players of Red Hill are of the opinion that Little plays the most consistent game of any member of the club, and those whom he has defeated during the tournament have the utmost regard for his ability.

The committee in charge of the President's Cup Tournament has a rather hard problem to decide, which many claim should have been considered when Little first entered the tournament. Horace Little, father of Clifford, is a member of the club and Clifford is therefore a Junior member and the tournament committee must decide whether a Junior member can play in the President's cup tournament.

The match between Brady and Little has been postponed two weeks. Postponement was first for one week, but as Mr. Brady had planned on being away next week end it was mutually agreed that two weeks or Sunday, July 13th, would be the date.

FIND UPLAND'S

STATION OF SAFE
AND MONEY

Leland Arrowwood and Walter Stone Traced Through Auto Stolen in Ontario the Day Before Robbery Occurred.

With the arrests in Los Angeles yesterday of Leland Arrowwood and Walter Stone, ex-convicts, the mystery surrounding the safe robbery at the Upland Pacific Electric station on the night of June 19 faded.

Identified as thieves of an automobile used in carrying the safe from the station to Pomona, where it was found battered open and its contents rifled, the two men are also wanted in Los Angeles for safe robberies and a score of holdups.

With a description and license number of the automobile stolen from Leopold Underwood in Ontario on the night of the safe robbery, Los Angeles detectives arrested Arrowwood and Stone, both of whom admitted their guilt in a series of holdups, but denied the Upland safe robbery, according to Sheriff Walter A. Shay, who questioned the suspects yesterday.

Traced by Tire Tracks
Automobile tracks leading to the Pacific Electric station tally with the tread of the tires on the stolen automobile, officers say. The Underwood automobile was stolen in Ontario a few hours before the robbery of the station was discovered.

On the morning after the robbery, officers found the safe on the outskirts of Pomona. It had been cracked open with a sledgehammer.

Both Arrowwood and Stone are ex-convicts, and are known to officers throughout the state as safe crackers, Sheriff Shay said.

Harry Z. Hall of Brea, P. L. Taylor of Los Angeles and D. A. Carmichael of Los Angeles don't care whose drinking water they wash their feet in. Their feet were dirty and there was that rippling, murmuring, cooling stream—their feet were hot and sore and dirty—so WHY NOT?

About that time Ranger Shay happened along and found them with their shoes and socks nicely laid out along the banks of the mountain stream. The men were arrested and will appear before Judge Crane here.

P. E. WILL ABANDON SAN ANTONIO LINE IN A FEW DAYS

BUS SERVICE TO TWENTY-FOURTH STREET WILL SERVE PATRONS

Out in Electricity Necessitates Abandonment. There Will Be No Service From 24th Street to San Antonio Park

Carrying out the order of the State Railroad Commission, the Pacific Electric will within a few days abandon the Euclid Avenue line from the main line of the San Bernardino line to 24th Street and San Antonio Park.

Many months ago the Railroad Commission made this recommendation but the electric railroad officials preferred to continue the service. Order to reduce the consumption of electricity necessitated the abandonment, and within a few days the order will go into effect.

In place of the electric line service, bus service will be established from Upland to 24th Street. There will be no service from 24th Street to San Antonio Park.

ONE KILLED WHEN
CAR OVER TURNS
IN CAJON PASSJURY RECOMMENDS MAN-SLAUGHTER CHARGE
FOR DRIVER

Both Husband and Wife Freed from San Quentin in 1923. Sentenced There for Burglary in the Second Degree.

Recommendation that a charge of manslaughter be placed against Donald Ricard, driver of the automobile in which his wife, Mrs. Edith Ricard, was killed Sunday near the Summit, was made yesterday by a coroner's jury inquiring into the death of Mrs. Ricard.

The recommendation of the jury reads: "We think that her husband, Donald Ricard, who was driving while intoxicated, should be charged with manslaughter."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ricard served terms in San Quentin on burglary charges, being sentenced together and freed at the same time.

Ricard was driving the automobile at the time of the accident, when the machine turned over and pinned Mrs. Ricard beneath it. It was brought out at the inquest. The testimony of five witnesses who were present at the time of the accident or shortly afterward, showed that Ricard was intoxicated at the time.

One witness, E. J. Gauthier, section foreman at Summit, testified that when he arrived at the scene of the accident shortly after it occurred, Ricard was "so drunk he couldn't stand." This evidence was corroborated by the testimony of others.

Bert East, section foreman at Alray, was the chief witness. He was a passenger in the ill-fated car at the time of the accident. He testified that he had met the Ricards in Victorville, and that they had invited him to accompany them as far as his home.

Passenger Tried to Leave Car
Ricard had had great difficulty in driving the car for some time previous to the accident, East stated. He declared that the car had almost turned over several times previous to the accident.

Ricard had had but little control over his machine. Shortly before the accident Mrs. Ricard took the key to the ignition system from her husband, and attempted to drive the car away from him, and shouted to East: "If you don't get back in this car I'll shoot you," the witness declared. He then got back into the car, and drove with the party until the time of the accident.

Bought Pint Bottle of Liquor
That East had bought a pint bottle of whiskey from Ricard on the trip was brought out when District Attorney George H. Johnson questioned East. East, however, denied that he had had any drinks from this bottle, but admitted taking two drinks in Victorville. He stated that he bought the two drinks for 50c apiece, and that he had paid Ricard two dollars for the pint flask of liquor.

Other witnesses at the inquest were Sheriff W. A. Shay, Dr. P. P. King, C. A. Selvy, E. N. Mortensen and Douglas Shay. Complete verdict returned by the jury stated that Mrs. Edith Ricard died as a result of "crushing injuries received by an automobile in which she was riding turning over on a mountain grade. We think that her husband, Donald Ricard, who was driving while intoxicated, should be charged with manslaughter."

UNDUE NOISEMRS. HOTTMAN SAYS THE HOLY GHOST WILL BE
HER TRIAL WITNESS

Adherents of Noisy Sect Holding Meetings at Upland Home, Claim to Have the Gift of Tongues.

Announcing that the Holy Ghost would appear as a witness in her behalf, Mrs. Victoria Hottman, leader of a religious sect known as the Pentecostal Society, frequently called the Holy Rollers, today entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace, when she appeared in Judge George R. Crane's court and demanded a trial by jury. Judge Crane fixed the hearing for July 10, and released Mrs. Hottman on her own recognizance.

Mrs. Hottman was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace and quiet of the neighborhood of L. C. Wilhoite, 1115 North Campus avenue, and Stacey Haines, 1111 North Campus, "by loud and unusual noise, tumultuous and offensive conduct."

The neighbors allege that members of the society hold frequent meetings at the home of Mrs. Hottman and under the leadership of the Rev. L. D. Tift, with shouts, screams and moans, create a disturbance far into the night which makes sleep in the neighborhood an impossibility. Persons who have visited some of the meetings, declare that young women and others lie on their backs on the floor, rolling, moaning, screaming and gurgling an unintelligible jargon, which members of the sect characterize as "the gift of tongues."

In court this morning, Mrs. Hottman denied that she had been guilty of disturbing the peace and announced that it was "God who made the noise." Mrs. Hottman was accompanied to court by Mrs. V. R. Rickel and other members of the society, which is said to number more men than women.

When questioned regarding the society, Mrs. Hottman explained that its members sought to worship God according to the second chapter of Acts in the Bible. She declared that the name "Holy Rollers" was a nickname given them by "the devil."

D. B. Kearney is Fatally
Injured in Fall from Pole

D. B. Kearney, well-known resident of Upland, and lineman in the employ of the Ontario Power Company, fell from a pole on Grove Street, Ontario, at 11:30 this morning, and died at 1:45 this afternoon.

Just what caused Mr. Kearney to fall will probably never be known, as he was not burned by electricity, his death being caused by internal injuries. Mr. Kearney was 39 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Kearney and family came here from Texas about four years ago, and have made their home here since that time.

Mrs. Kearney and the children, a daughter and three sons, were spending the week at Newport Beach on their annual vacation. Following the accident, a car was sent to Newport to bring the family home, but death occurred before they arrived.

CHAFFEY GIRLS' WORK ORGANIZATION IN ANNUAL OUTING AT LOS ANGELES CITY PLAY GROUND

Yearly Outing Proves Ideal Eighty-Seven Girls Attend

Camp Conifer is again delighted to be able to offer to you an edition of the Chronicle. It has been great fun to prepare it as much as we have. It contains a more or less accurate account of some of the camp doings and was a very important part of each night's program as the girls sat around the big camp fire. The personnel of the staff is as follows: Elizabeth Ennsley, editor-in-chief; reporters: Margaret Ferris, Owls; Louise Buffington, Linnets; Ina Patterson, Robins; Eudora Fredendall, Orioles; Marie Matlin, Yellow Hammers; Pearl Strange, Phoebees; Vera Higginbotham, Chickadees; Opal McPeak, Blue Jays; Edna Fry, Mountain Quails.

Camp Conifer was a splendid camp this year, with eighty-seven members to its credit. In order to facilitate the handling of such a large crowd, the girls were divided into groups. Each group consisted of eight or nine girls and a leader, and in this way everyone soon knew everyone else, as there was much interesting and friendly rivalry between "nests." Each group was a bird family and had a pilot bird, while over them all hovered the Eagle. Each bird nest also had an animal leader to help in case of necessity. The pilots and their groups were: Florence Ashley, Linnets; Elizabeth Ennsley, Blue Jays; Ida Vernon, Yellow Hammers; Lois Robinson, Orioles; Doris Field, Mountain Quails; Claire Johnston, Robins; Bessie Luckensmeyer, Owls; Hazel Williams, Chickadees; Olive Shattuck was Eagle. The animals were: Deer, Miss Clara Bissell; Lynx, Miss Janet Stone; Chipmunk, Miss Vina Danks; Badger, Miss Pearl Clark; Possum, Miss Ethel McCormick; Coon, Mrs. B. A. Cherbak; Bobcat, Miss Eleanor Leahy; Fox, Miss Isabel Smith; Squirrel, Mrs. Ray Urey; Coyote, Mrs. Geoffrey Fleming; and Panther, Miss Ione Poe.

Every member of Camp Conifer had such a vacation as she will not soon forget, and the pleasant association of other girls, the pine needle beds, the starry nights, the ideals of service, all mean much and will call the majority back next year to realize that none of this would have been possible without the unceasing efforts and wonderful spirit of Deer and Lynx, and so wish to take this opportunity to thank them very heartily for the pleasures and beautiful memories of Camp Conifer.

They also wish to extend their thanks to Mr. Wadsworth, of the Los Angeles County Park, and to the rangers for their efforts to make Camp Conifer so pleasant a place. "We thank you! We thank you! We thank you!" To get eighty-seven people to a mountain camp sixty-five miles from home is no easy matter, but due to the generosity and spirit of co-operation shown by firms and individuals of Ontario and Upland, both girls and supplies were transported with no difficulty. In Ontario, the Studebaker and Chevrolet firms supplied machines and drivers and Ford agency volunteered a truck, and in Upland the Allen Transfer Co. made several trips. A great many people offered machines, but not all of them were needed. All the Camp Coniferers and Mrs. H. S. Shattuck and Mrs. F. E. Rader of the transportation committee wish to thank all their friends who offered their aid.

The Wednesday night program was put on by the Chickadees and the Phoebees. The jazz orchestra very nobly led the singing, and Vera Higginbotham, a clever tight rope walking stunt, a clever tight rope walking stunt, a clever tight rope walking stunt.

Free from the strain of home-work and "text" books, the girls were free from the classroom, its work and its trial. Happy freedom from labor and goal. Comes with the call of winging birds. Comes with the breezes living words. That are waited with glee here and there. So in the depths of the quiet canyon Let us feel again mind and soul With high arms; see anew our goal. Renew our strength for the race to be run.

Morning Watch
Here in Gods Temple, unformed by hands of man,
We meet at early morning to sing our songs of praise,
Seeking light and guidance our untired paths,
We kneel and pray our Maker supplications raise.
May this communion for the moments Make us strong with calmness in our souls.
Girded with truth and righteousness fair,
May we keep untarnished our armor while striving for our goal.

Hiking
Tramping, tramping all the way,
Up the hills we go today.
As we swiftly march along,
Hear the blue bird's happy song,
See the gleam of flowers bright,
Shining near the rocks so white.
Lunching, munching 'mid the trees
Soon we'll eat like hungry bears.
Another trail we will take,
Even though our feet do ache.
Then the time that suits us best—
Quiet hour and needed rest—
Limping, limping, home we come,
With the rays of setting sun.
Telling those who stayed behind
Of the many joys we sure did find.
Hiking, hiking, we prefer,
In the hills near Conifer.

Dinner
Sniffing lovely odors
Of the evening meal;
Wishing that the dinner bell
Soon its notes would peal.

Running to the table
Lest we lose our place;
Singing rather lustily
Our evening hymn of grace.

Reaching for the butter
Near our neighbor's plate;
Taking some of everything—
Even the squash we hate.

Feeling very happy
When the meal is done;
Dining here at Conifer
Is surely lots of fun.

The Campfire
With crackle and with dancing spark,
The campfire leaps to meet the dark.
Happy faces through the glow,
Happy voices singing low,
While round about the hoot owls call
And friendly trees watch over all.

The Parting
We've been happy here together
In the friendship newly made,
As round the fire we've gathered
Or with the bow and arrow played.

Though sadness sits within each heart,
We know we shall survive,
For though the time must come to part,
We'll all be back in '25.

O NOBLE PINE
O noble pine,
Whose friendships no one knows
Unless thy heart be bared,
Teach me to live like thee.

O gentle pine,
Whose arms with parental love
Protect frail birds of the air,
Teach me to live like thee.

O humble pine,
Whose hope of future life is given
To feed a squirrel,
Teach me to live like thee.

O trusting pine,
Who keeps forever true,
Through trials tread the way,
Teach me to live like thee.

Wishing that the dinner bell
Soon its notes would peal.

Running to the table
Lest we lose our place;
Singing rather lustily
Our evening hymn of grace.

Reaching for the butter
Near our neighbor's plate;
Taking some of everything—
Even the squash we hate.

Feeling very happy
When the meal is done;
Dining here at Conifer
Is surely lots of fun.

The Campfire
With crackle and with dancing spark,
The campfire leaps to meet the dark.
Happy faces through the glow,
Happy voices singing low,
While round about the hoot owls call
And friendly trees watch over all.

The Parting
We've been happy here together
In the friendship newly made,
As round the fire we've gathered
Or with the bow and arrow played.

Though sadness sits within each heart,
We know we shall survive,
For though the time must come to part,
We'll all be back in '25.

O NOBLE PINE
O noble pine,
Whose friendships no one knows
Unless thy heart be bared,
Teach me to live like thee.

O gentle pine,
Whose arms with parental love
Protect frail birds of the air,
Teach me to live like thee.

O humble pine,
Whose hope of future life is given
To feed a squirrel,
Teach me to live like thee.

O trusting pine,
Who keeps forever true,
Through trials tread the way,
Teach me to live like thee.

THE LIGHTS OF ELSINORE
(With apologies to Longfellow)

Fairest maid of the Sobobas,
Purest maid of all the maidens,
With her bold and haughty father,
Tondo, chief of the Sobobas,
Dwelt content beneath the pine trees,
Near the Lake—Lake Elsinore.

Many warriors sought fair Thea,
Vainly, with rare gifts, they sought her,
Till a warrior, strong and noble,

ing, some prints have faded. Experiments will continue until Saturday.

Another section of the 13 drew flowers, and here a regular ritual began.

"Have you finished your drawing?" "What do you call this?" "Hie, you, over there, is mine too big?" "How do you spell stamen?" "How do you spell petal—pedal?"

"I can't draw anyway!" Monday the class chased insects and Panther has kept quite a collection for close inspection, if you wish to see them. A beautiful beetle is one of the inmates of her bug zoo. Bring in your specimens.

Photography Class
Chipmunk, the leader of the Photographers, has been bringing her girls through with a snap. They will soon be able to take up the profession with her as a coach.

So far, they have studied the parts and use of the camera, the action of light, camera errors and avoidance of the same, and now, they are actually developing some of their pictures. They are going, in the next few days, to study indoor and portrait photography. This study will enable Scouts to get their badge and Campfires their beads after turning out the required number of pictures.

Dorothy Allen developed six good pictures this afternoon in the cook tent. Soon it will be: "Develop my roll, please?"

Mary Graber and Juanita Freeman have finished pine needle baskets. Others of the class have started willow baskets. All work is done so prettily and neatly and everyone is so enthusiastic.

Chipmunk, who also has charge of this class, is a very interesting instructor and helps her pupils in every way possible. The baskets are progressing rapidly and the girls are very busy.

The baskets are progressing rapidly and the girls are very busy. The baskets are progressing rapidly and the girls are very busy.

Went the lovers to their dwelling, Watery dwelling of the fair lake. Now, when one is on the lake side.

By the lake of Elsinore, When the moon is beaming o'er it, And the reeds are rustling, rustling.

When a light goes flitting, flitting, Then the old men of the Sobobas Say with reverence, awe and wonder,

"Those are the souls of ancient Lover, Palo, and fair Theca."

While Lois Oriole very effectively read this impressive tragedy, the rest of the Oriole family (Badger included) acted it out in pantomime.

The naughty Tondo was successfully presented by Badger. The parts of the lovers, Theca and Palo, impersonated by Dorothy and Eudora Oriole, were so well done that we wonder where they got all that wonderful where they got all that wonderful where they got all that wonderful

THE BRIDE'S SILVER

Here is a list of silverware suitable for the bride to begin housekeeping: 6 dinner knives, either silver or steel; 8 medium knives for dinner or more informal meals; 6 dinner forks; 8 medium forks (either set may be chosen alone, but a set of both dinner knives and forks and also a smaller set are very useful); 12 teaspoons, 6 bouillon spoons or 6 large tablespoons; 6 dessert spoons, 6 butter spreaders (optional), 6 oyster forks (optional), 6 salad forks (optional), 6 orange or fruit spoons (optional), 3 berry spoons or large serving spoons; 1 gravy ladle, 1 cold meat fork, 1 pie server, 1 small pickle fork, 6 fruit knives, 3-piece carving set. Sterling silver is lovely if one can afford it, but a good grade of plate wears better and comes in many lovely patterns. The simpler patterns are in better taste and are easier to keep clean.

SANTA FE LAYS OFF
800 TWO WEEKS

Two weeks vacation for approximately 800 mechanics in the Santa Fe locomotive department, San Bernardino was ordered last week and continues until July 14, when the shops will resume as usual.

The closing down of the locomotive department will make it possible to advance construction on the $3,400,000 building program now under way and which will require all of this year and 1925 to complete.

The cut is primarily to keep expenses within the fiscal year appropriation.

At the present time nearly 1800 men are employed in the shops, officials stated yesterday.

A force of more than 500 men employed in the car department will continue on the regular five-day working schedule.

Work has started toward clearing the ground for the new boiler shop, the engine transfer table and much other construction.

Freight traffic is continuing to increase and passenger business is expected to show a higher mark than reached last year at this time, it was stated.

Twenty new locomotives were sent from the eastern shops to the coast lines and are now being put in operation. This equipment with a surplus of motive power now on hand has had a strong bearing on the two weeks' shutdown of the locomotive department.

Tested Recipes

The following cakes will be appropriate for this week, having either very patriotic names or being suitable for the Fourth of July celebration. We will start with the Queen's Cake, which is a delicious one, worthy to be eaten by any Queen in the world, and especially by Upland's own particular one on Friday.

Queen Cake

One-half cup brown sugar, two tablespoonsful butter, cream, add two well-beaten eggs, 3-4 cup of molasses, one and one-half cups of flour, one teaspoonful soda mixed with molasses; beat all together and add 3-4 cup of boiling water. Bake in layers and fill with one cup raisins and one cup dates chopped fine, with dash of lemon juice. Ice with caramel icing.

Independence Cake

Beat two eggs with one cup of sugar, one pint of sour milk or cream, in which has been dissolved half a teaspoonful soda, add two cups of flour sifted with two teaspoonsful baking powder, and flavor with lemon. Bake in layers and put together with lemon filling. Rind and juice of one lemon, one egg, one cup sugar, two teaspoonful corn starch, one cup hot water. Cook till thick, then spread on layers.

Fourth of July Cake

Two cups sugar, half cup shortening, whites three eggs beaten stiff, one cup milk, three cups flour sifted with three teaspoonsful of baking powder. Mix sugar, shortening, milk, flour and vanilla flavoring, then add egg whites. Bake in loaf pans.

Stars and Stripes Sponge Cake

One cup sugar, yolks of two eggs, four tablespoonsful water, one cup flour, one level teaspoonful baking powder. Mix, then add beaten whites of eggs. Line a baking tin with greased paper, turn in cake mixture and bake twenty minutes in hot oven. Watch carefully. This recipe sometimes is done in less time.

President's Honey Cake

Take one-half cupful of butter, three-fourths of a cupful of honey, one-third cupful of apple jelly, two eggs well beaten, one teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful each of cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg, one cupful each of raisins and currants. Warm the butter, honey and jelly slightly, add the eggs and the soda dissolved in a tablespoonful of hot water, add spices and enough flour to make a stiff batter, add the fruit dredged with flour and bake in a slow oven. Keep in a covered jar for several weeks before using.

The consensus of opinion at this time is that some of our flapper specimens are being shingled on the wrong end.—Detroit News.

HULING STILL SAYS
HE IS INNOCENT

Still maintaining his innocence in the Ontario $30,000 fraud deal, for which he is under sentence of 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary, John E. Huling has written Judge Jesse Olney, before whom he was tried and convicted, in an appeal for his release on bond. Huling asks in the letter if it is because he does not believe that he was not given a fair trial and has appealed to the higher court, that bail has been denied him.

The truth regarding the crime, for which Fred Alford, former Ontario city manager, was convicted and sentenced to serve 20 years in San Quentin—where he now is—will some day come from the lips of Alford. Huling declares in his letter. Huling was convicted as an accomplice of Alford's.

Following is the letter from the county jail by Huling:

Why Bail Denied?

"June 17, 1924.
"Judge Jesse Olney,
"Superior Court,
"San Bernardino, Calif.
"Dear Judge—Why should I be denied bail?

"Why should I be singled out from hundreds of persons brought into court and convicted of one charge and released on bond during the appeal of their case?

"Many persons in similar positions to the one I find myself in have been released on less than $10,000 bond during appeal. But I am prepared to furnish bond of more than that if necessary.
"Why is bail denied to me? Is it because I do not believe that I had a fair trial and have appealed to a higher court? It is the constitutional right of any citizen to appeal his case to a higher court if he is not satisfied with the decisions of the lower court. I am asking for fairness in this matter. Being held in the county jail during the appeal of my case is not part of the penalty, therefore, I do not feel that it is right nor just that I should be deprived of the time to earn and care for those dependent upon me while my case is before the appellate court.

Denies Fraud Intent

"At no time did I have any intent to defraud the city of Ontario. Neither did I, prior to his arrest, suspect Mr. Alford of defrauding the city of Ontario. I acted in good faith and at all times believed that the city of Ontario received full value for every transaction that went through my hands. I am not conscious of any offense other than having trusted and believed Mr. Alford. In this I feel my position is much the same as the board of trustees of the city of Ontario. In the light of the present facts it may appear strange that hundreds of people trusted and had confidence in Mr. Alford.

"After giving the district attorney's investigator the facts regarding my dealings with Mr. Alford, I was offered probation if I would plead guilty to one charge. I declined to do this because I wanted to keep my record clean and knowing that I had not intentionally done any wrong, I preferred to mortgage my life for a number of years by borrowing money to defend myself rather than take the easiest way out and have a stain on my record.

Says Truth Will Out

"The verdict of the jury, after being out 19 hours, of guilty on one charge and not guilty on six charges, I feel was a compromise verdict and did not express the true and individual opinion of each jurymen.

"If the higher court decides that my trial was fair and that the verdict of the jury was just, then I must serve the sentence imposed upon me by the law.
"The full truth will come from Mr. Alford's lips some day and it will show that any act of mine in this matter was with honorable motives.

"I am not asking any favors of the law, but I do feel that I am entitled to the same consideration that should be given to any citizen before the law.

Sincerely,

"JOHN E. HULING."

Everyone moved on tiptoes around the sickbed. But it was merely a mild attack of influenza, though the patient was hourly making herself feel worse and worse drawing mental pictures of her awful fate that might overtake her. The doctor had been sent for and at last arrived.

"Are you feeling very ill?" he asked, preparing to take the invalid's temperature.

The only answer was a groan.

"Let me look at your tongue," said the doctor next.

"No use, doctor," replied the patient. "No tongue can tell my sufferings."

All of us would be patient if it didn't take so much patience.

AIR MAIL SERVICE
EFFECTIVE JULY 1

July 1st, today, transcontinental air mail service became effective, and if you are a resident of Upland and want a letter delivered in New York pronto, all you have to do is to go to a first-class postoffice, post your letter and within sixty-two hours your letter will be delivered. The Upland office is now lined up for the air mail.

Mail formerly requiring five days to reach New York, can be posted here and reach New York just 62 hours later, this including the 26-hour run by train before it can "take the air" at Salt Lake City.

Have Three Zones

The air service has been divided into three zones. Postage rates will vary according to the zone, eight cents being required for the first zone, 16 cents for the second and 24 cents for the third—for each ounce of mail matter. Sealed packages weighing up to 10 pounds may also be handled, but first-class postage rates will be required.

The three zones, as affecting the western states, are as follows: To Cheyenne, 8 cents; Chicago, 12 cents; New York, 24 cents, for each ounce. Letters may be registered the same as ordinary mail, by affixing 10 cents in stamps and going through with the same procedure. Special delivery service on this mail will be provided for 10 cents, as on other mail matter.

Designs on the new stamps—which are issued in three colors—are symbolic of the air service. The 8-cent stamp is green, with an airplane propeller insignia design; the 16-cent denomination is blue, the design being similar to the pair of wings denoting the air service, while the 24-cent stamp is of rose color, with an airplane shown in flight.

Mail Before 8 P.M.

The following rule for dispatching mail, Postmaster Kirk points out, will be necessary in order to insure dispatch on each day's air service: All mail posted for dispatch via the air service must be in the postoffice before 5 p.m. in order to catch the airplane at Salt Lake City—the closest stop to Upland—without the least delay. Mail posted before 5 p.m. will arrive at Salt Lake City the second morning at 6:30 a.m., where it will remain until 2:15 p.m. at which time the plane will pick it up and rush it across the continent. It will reach New York just 25 hours and 40 minutes after it leaves Salt Lake City.

Following is the complete schedule for east-bound mail planes, which will travel from San Francisco to New York in 34 hours and 45 minutes:

SPENDING OF THE FOOD ALLOWANCE

Divide the budget into fifths and spend:

One-fifth for whole milk.

One-fifth for vegetables and fruit.

One-fifth or more for meat, fish and poultry.

One-fifth or less for fats, sweets and miscellaneous food.

The one-fifth that is spent for milk should provide a quart of milk a day for each child and a pint of milk a day for each adult.

To obtain a good navy blue when dyeing cotton material, add from one-quarter to an entire package of black dye to the navy.

Use doubled crochet thread to sew buttons on. It takes only half the time of common thread, and the buttons are much firmer.

Colleges furnish the raw material of which many of our leaders are made. But some of the college output is merely rah-rah material and useless.

"Could you tell me if Mr. Jenkins is in," queried the pretty girl, as she entered the office. The boy nodded. The girl hesitated. "Is he engaged," she asked. "Engaged!" he almost shouted. "Engaged! Wow! He's married and got four kids!"

CAMP CONIFER
CHRONICLE

We will now introduce to you the hermit, Percival and his famous Magical Horse, Spark Plug! Percival will now demonstrate Sparky's wonderful intelligence. I want to say that the horse will answer any question put to him by a nod or shake of the head.

The Yellow Hammer always seen at his side is also benefited through this experience. The three are now inseparable.

The Camp Conifer Jazz Band lead in several peppy songs. The audience was held spellbound by the imitation of Gallie Curci's singing.

Dorothy Williams, a Robin, danced and gave several recitals. Art and Olive had a hypnotizing stunt which worked out quite effectively.

Sunday's Schedule

Sunday the schedule was the same as usual until breakfast. Then the mighty Orioles fed the bunch with some scrumptious apple fritters. Everybody ate lots, including poor Eagle, who ate so much that she didn't recover till after dinner.

No regular classes were held, but at ten the photographing class and others interested listened to Mr. Lampton, a photographer, tell us some interesting facts about taking pictures.

At 10:30 a splendid service was held on the knoll.
Doxology; Glee Club sang "Little Church in the Wild Wood"; "Trees," sung by Lynx; hymn, "I Need Thee Every Hour," led by Glee Club; "Mission Play" by the Robins; "Our Syrian Guest," interpretation of 23rd Psalm, read by Chipmunk; "God of the Open Air," by H. Van Dyke, read by Deer.

We had a fine Sunday dinner prepared by the Owls. Best of all came the ice cream for dessert. Eagle couldn't eat anything, poor thing; but Marie Yellow Hammer made up for her.

Everybody lived through rest hour. We tried to make a good impression on all the visitors. Did we succeed?

Several groups took hikes in the afternoon, the rest of us loafed. Coyote, our busy nurse, had to leave, so all gave her a good send-off and welcomed our new nurse, Jack Rabbit.

Monday Evening's Program
The Long Hairs, having been challenged to a stunt by the Short Hairs of camp, put on a very clever program. First came the drama, "Bluebeard." Lynx, who superbly played the leading role, made very desperate love to Fatima, his wife, who was impersonated by Ruth Yellow Hammer. (We hope that Ruth has recovered her breath.) Fatima's sister, played by Bessie Owl, showed much anguish as to the safety of her beloved Fatima. The brother who so gallantly came to the rescue, was the tribe and graceful Bobcat. The mother was played most becomingly by Jack Rabbit. The reader, who improved the whole thing by many expressive intonations was Squirrel, who has now left us, to our great loss. Ah-h—the villainous scene. As Fatima turned the large key, the great door swung open (in other words, the curtain fell) and there, before the hushed audience, hanging by their long hairs, were the horribly gruesome wives of Bluebeard. One could almost have passed out about ten years ago. 12 for this wonder of the 21st century? By the way, Lynx wore a keen-looking blue beard, made of painted rope.

After that wondrous display of talent, Mr. Huntington, the ranger, spoke on fire prevention, mentioning the danger of cigarettes. There were then several clever songs, Mr. Huntington participating in a solo.
Dorothy Williams and Ina Patterson sang some original songs together.
Then taps, and everybody hiked for bed.

Auction! Auction!

I am about to auction off this new, second-hand, guaranteed to fade, blue beard. What am I offering? asked the terrible Bluebeard himself.

"One safety pin," came from the peanut gallery.
"Is that all I am offered for this unwashable creation?"

"Three safety pins."
"Better, won't some bird raise it?"
"Five safety pins."
"Going, going—"
"Seven safeties."
"Am I bid more?"
"Twelve!"
"Twelve! Am I to get only goat!"

Louise: "You mean to tell me that the escaped convict lived for six days in a cave without food?"
John: "Oh, no; he lived on milk."
Louise: "Where did he get the milk?"
John: "He had the sheriff's goat!"

CHAS. FRENCHJudge Jesse Olney Delivers
Charge to Grand JurorsAdmonishes Members to Dig to the Bottom of All Matters Pertaining to County Affairs—Urges Immediate Work to Begin—No EvasionsTo the Grand Jury of the County of San Bernardino, State of California, for the year of 1924:Grand Jurors: It has been the custom in times past for the court to instruct you regarding your elementary duties in language similar to the provisions of the Penal Code. I shall omit this from my present charge. You will find the information in the Penal Code of the State of California embraced between Sections 915 and 946, to which sections I hereby make specific reference for your guidance and charge you as therein contained.The law imposes upon the court the duty of calling your attention also to the provisions of Sections 4000 to 4000-b inclusive, of the Political Code of the state, relating to counties as bodies corporate and to instruct you to ascertain by careful and diligent investigation whether the provisions of said sections have been complied with and to note the result of such investigation in your report.Each of you should bear in mind the obligation of your oath and should follow the guidance of your own conscience.
You have a grave responsibility to arrive at a true and just decision upon the merits of your survey of conditions in this county. You should not be controlled by any apprehension of where your investigation will lead or how high it may hit or how far it may reach. If you discover wrongdoing your failure to indict cannot be remedied, but your indictment—if you should return one or more—can be corrected by the courts. Remember at all times that the good order and welfare of our county are involved.Jury to Reason With Each Other
You are urged to make every effort to agree and to that end reason with one another. If any of you or group of you find yourselves in the minority, consider conscientiously whether you are more likely to be right than the majority. It is the duty of each of you to reason with your fellow jurors to the end of joining with them
in a recommendation or indictment.
None of you should refuse to agree for mere pride of opinion. If any of you should find yourselves in a small minority you should ask yourselves
whether the fact that a majority differ with you does not indicate that your own doubt is a reasonable one or that your own conclusions one way or the other are not correct. You should lay aside all personal bias or feeling—if such should develop—and in all fairness and good nature agree together each with the other upon a united course of action. Let no consideration actuate you save that of doing even handed justice toward the people of San Bernardino county, whose servants you are.It is your duty, jurors, to make a careful and complete examination of the books, records and accounts of all the officers of the county, and report as to the facts found.
Serious problems, jurors, are ahead
of you and will confront you on every hand. The organization and function of the grand jury, broadly speaking,
is for the bringing to the individual
in society more protection, more happiness and opportunity for progress;
and the machinery of the grand jury
is to safeguard these advantages to society. It is for you, jurors, to make a thorough investigation of all county officials and institutions. As the servant of the people it is your duty
to inform them of the results of this
investigation and to offer recommendations for the betterment of the conditions which exist today in this county.Minority Can Make Report
If, however, for any reason you are unable to agree upon a unanimous report as to conditions existing throughout the county, it is your right and privilege, if you may so desire, to present a minority report to this court.If at any time before submitting your final report you deem it for the public interest in any wise on any subject, you may present to this court a partial report or recommendation based upon your investigation of county affairs so far as you may have gone in such inquiry.Grand Jurors, the enforcement of the law is the great need and topic of the hour in San Bernardino county.
Examine into the mode and character
of this enforcement in this county,
the care of those under sentence and incarcerated in its institutions, and the betterment to the end of higher efficiency in the apprehension of criminals and prosecution of crime.Says Justice Needs Improvement
Of all questions before you I regard no one as more important than the improvement of the administration of justice. We must make it so that the poor man shall have equal opportunity with the rich before the courts. Courts were brought into being in this state not for the benefit of the rich and powerful but for the protection of the poor and weak.
It is one of the needs of the hour
to return them to the principles of their foundation. The rich and poor, the powerful and the weak, must have like opportunity. There must be absolute equality in the enforcement of the law.It has been announced in the public press that upon the drawing of these initial 30 names of the grand jury list for summoning here today, this court said there seemed no immediate need for your empannelment. Such statement was made by this court. There is a very immediate need of the most deep-rooted and immediate painstaking inquiry of the actual conditions surrounding government in this county today. From no evident untruth as the quotation referred to being so broadcast throughout San Bernardino county, the court is not sure but that the censorship of news and suppression of facts and dissemination of poisoned news
throughout the county, might well receive your careful consideration.Wants Frank Investigation Changes and resignations of official heads of departments of the county government are always subjects for frank investigation as to their cause.
It is your duty, jurors, to make a frank investigation. If you find there have been such changes, and go thoroughly and deeply to the bottom of all the surrounding circumstances.
County warrants, the nature and extent, are always a subject of your frank interest and it will be your duty to inquire into them with care.
The present trend of exorbitant taxation
in the county, mounting year by year, has caused the county to be lowered. Economy must be brought into the public service. Retrenchment must be had to the end of the liberation of the people from the excessive cost of county government. To this end inquire into the county payrolls
and the machinery of the grand jury
to inform them of the results of this
investigation and to offer recommendations for the betterment of the conditions which exist today in this county.The only valid basis on which the institution of the grand jury rests is that it is an independent and impartial tribunal; and it is the duty of the court to refuse to tolerate any practice which conflicts with its independence and impartiality. The purpose of the institution of the grand jury was to interpose a check upon county officials and the presentation of indictments upon any matter to the court; and the grand jury would cease to answer this purpose and would increase the danger it was intended to avert if it should receive, in even the smallest degree, the official direction of such authorities.Nothing Higher Than Court North, south, east and west, within the boundaries of San Bernardino county, there is nothing higher than the Superior Court. You are officers of that court and as its officers you are supreme. No man or set of men is more powerful. You are above all and within the scope of your investigation your word is law. All doors must immediately be opened to you.
All records must be promptly furnished to you. You have access at all times and at all hours into every department of the county government.
Brook no interference or postponement of your demands. All your requests must be immediately met without let or hindrance. If you meet with any opposition; if any delay or interference is attempted by anyone, high or low, report the matter with dispatch to this court and the offender
will answer to this court with either his submission or his liberty.If there are men who fled the state just prior to the drawing of this grand jury to escape being called before you, issue your subpoena for them and demand their return.Remember that at all times this court with all the full weight of its power stands behind you and is at your service.You are serving the people of San Bernardino county in their desire for clean government and they expect you to do your work thoroughly and efficiently, with justice to all and favor
to none.Authorized To Employ Experts
You are authorized to employ your own independent experts. Do so freely, if you find it necessary, first subscribing affidavits for their employment for sanction to this court. You are not compelled to take any expert furnished you or suggested to you by anyone. Be your own guide, counselor and friend, and as a grand jury have your own individuality and personality. Be independent. Follow your own judgment and this court and the people of this county will be behind you. Employ independently your own experts and I will O. K. the bill pass it on to the Board of Supervisors. I will back you to the limit.
The Board of Supervisors and its chairman are not your superiors in this matter. They are your subordinates and under your instruction and investigation. The people of this county look to you and no public official will dare to openly defy the public opinion of San Bernardino County.If in the course of your investigations you shall find anything amiss, don't focus on the subordinates. Indict the men at the top if they have violated the law.
There shall nothing stand in your way nor check you, or block you in your investigations. You, through the court which empowers you, are supreme above any men or set of men, and you will be obeyed.Plenty of Rumor is Abroad
Grand Jurors, there is rumor abroad in the land. Various departments of the county government, slightly or wonderfully, are under grave suspicion.
Probe all to the very bottom. Leave no stone unturned. If you find nothing amiss, then say so with all praise of the department or official. If you find rottenness or graft or waste, or where the taxpayers of the county
have been mulcted through politics anywhere within the county government, fearlessly and relentlessly bringIndividual Judgment Is To Guide
The court, jurors, wishes to emphasize to you the importance of being guided in all matters exclusively by your own individual judgment. Let no outside influence sway your judgment. It is not only a contempt of court but it is a misdemeanor at common law for volunteers to approach a grand jury for the purpose

CELEBRATION—Rev. O. V. Rice was the guest at a delightful celebration of his 80th birthday anniversary last Thursday at his new home, 407
Harrison Avenue, Claremont.
When, after a family picnic at noon, some thirty members of an old men's club, of which Mr.
Rice is a member, called with their wives to add their congratulations to those of other friends.
The gathering took the place of a house-warming in the new home, but as the day was so warm, a blaze was not started in the fireplace, but the following verses read instead, dedicating
the home to health, happiness and contentment down the many years ahead of both Mr. and Mrs.
Rice:This little house a haven forms
Against life's troubles weather,
Where twain may ride out fiercest storms
In perfect peace together.Though small appears the space thereof,
'Tis ample for contentment;
There's room enough for tons of love,
But no inch for resentment.The light that from the windows streams,
A beacon midst the gloaming,
Shall shine with loyal, steady beams
As signal set for homing.For faith and cheer, for smile and tear,
For charity unguiled,
For night and day, and changing
year,
This little house is builded.

wherever necessary for the efficiency of the public service.This court wishes you to probe every nook and cranny of the county gov-

in June but for a full investigation your time is short at that. Get to work at once. When you take ad-

Live up to it and to the highest

Around Our Town

The Paramount automobile factory site near Azusa shows very little progress so far. Many will recall that this factory very nearly decided last fall to choose Upland as its permanent location. The subdivision "Paramount Heights," just west of Azusa, has been laid out and a hardware store, lumber yard and offices have been built on the street facing the Foothill Blvd., but no factory or other buildings are in evidence as yet.

Mr. R. A. Condee, superintendent of agriculture at the California Junior Republic, southwest of China, reports that the school farm is making an unusual record this year in the raising of farm products. From the 65 acres of land devoted to hay and grain, 400 tons of alfalfa were harvested last week as well as 600 sacks of barley. China and vicinity is one of the few localities in California that has been able to produce a normal crop of hay this year, notwithstanding the scanty rainfall. A young pear orchard planted on the Republic acreage some two years ago is also making fine progress.

Announcement is made today of the fact that Lee O. Woolery has sold his real estate interests here to L. S. Buhl, of Washington Boulevard, who will continue to carry on the business at 218 Second Avenue. Mr. Woolery, although giving up business, will remain here and enjoy life on his ranch on West 21st Street.

Mark Bailey has commenced operations on his new home on Sixth Avenue, and hopes to have it finished in time to move into in the early fall. He is building a brick house of attractive appearance, which will add considerably to the upbuilding of this thoroughfare.

The Omaha Luncheon Club recently closed its meetings for the year with a luncheon and card party at the Beverly Hills Hotel. This club came into existence during the winter and is composed of some forty members, all of them former residents of Omaha, Neb. Mrs. Chas. W. An article appearing on air mail service in another column of this issue states that the Upland post office is now lined up to serve patrons desiring to use the air mails. The article should have read "is not," as only first-class offices handle the air mail. Cashier H. C. Moore, of the Commercial National Bank, announced today, however, that the Commercial National would carry a supply of air mail stamps and those desiring to use them can purchase them at the bank. Your letter, mailed in the afternoon, should reach New York in sixty-two hours.

Miss Janet Stone of the Chaffey faculty left on Sunday for Berkeley, where she will attend summer school at the University of California. Miss Stone made the trip north from San Pedro to San Francisco.

Dr. F. J. White, president of the Baptist College, Shanghai, China, who is making his home in Upland, returned on Monday from an extended business trip to Atlanta, Milwaukee, Chicago, New York and other eastern points.

Miss Laura Kroger of Claremont, who is very well-known among musical people in Upland, left this morning for a visit of several weeks to Chicago, Cincinnati and Memphis, Tenn., where she will be the guest of friends and also spend some time visiting the musical conservatories in those cities. Miss Kroger expects to return here early in September.

WELCOME GIVEN PRESIDENT HILL

First hearty welcome to President M. E. Hill of the Upland Rotary, and to Mrs. Hill, who attended the International Rotary Convention at Toronto, was extended at the Santa Fe depot Thursday when they alighted from the train with Glenn D. Smith, president of Ontario Rotary.

The second welcome was staged at the Sycamore today when President Hill arrived from his classes at the University of California, where he is instructor in the summer school.

Following the luncheon, during which those who could sing and those who couldn't had their in-ning with John D. Howe at the piano, President Hill gave his first talk in presenting his report of the International Convention, which he and Mrs. Hill attended. Hospitality was the main theme of Mr. Hill's talk, and Canadian hospitality was of a sincere brand he had never met before. On every hand Rotarians and their wives were extended every courtesy and welcomed into the Dominion in a whole-souled manner. During the coming meetings President Hill will continue his report of the convention.

SOVIETS CHANGE NAME OF CITY

That the name of Russia's principal city, changed during the world war from St. Petersburg to Petrograd, has again been changed, this time to Leningrad, is indicated by a letter received today by Mrs. Vera George Husk, a Russian visitor in Upland. Instead of the usual Petrograd cancellation, the letter is postmarked Leningrad and the writer relates that the Petrograd of old is no more, but that the city is truly Leningrad with the bolshevistic element in full power on all sides.

The name, Leningrad, is in honor of the late Vladimir Lenin, until his recent death head of the Soviet government. Mme. Husk, asserts that the name of the city was officially changed by the Soviet government nearly two years ago, but this, apparently, is the first time the change has actually been put into effect, since the letter received today is the first to bear the Leningrad postmark. Mme. Husk is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Whitney, San Antonio avenue and Sixteenth Street.

The change during the war from St. Petersburg to Petrograd is said to have been made on account of the German origin of the former name and in the latest change is seen the efforts of the bolsheviks to get away from everything connected with the old Russia. Word from Russia says that

CUCAMONGA CANYON CLOSED

Said to be preliminary to a general closing down on the majority of canyons throughout the Cucamonga hills, and all those extending into the Angelus Forest, Supervisor R. H. Charlton yesterday announced that Cucamonga Canyon was a closed area to campers.

Fire building permits will not be issued for spots anywhere in the Angelus reserve, it was announced. While Cucamonga Canyon was named as the first danger spot, the entire region is in a highly inflammable condition and determined steps are being taken by the ranger service to prevent outbreaks anywhere.

Before the season is ended other canyons in the range north of here will be under the ban, the service chief stated.

A bulletin issued from headquarters yesterday contained the following rules to be followed by those entering the hills over the week-end:

1—Be sure your match is out before throwing it away. Hold it long enough to break it in two and then it will be sure to be out.

2—Carry an ash tray in your machine and put your cigarette and cigar stubs in it. Don't toss them out of the machine.

3—Cover a campfire with water and mineral earth when leaving it. Pine needles will just feed the flames.

4—Don't leave a fire you see. If you can't put it out, get to the nearest telephone and notify the forest ranger.

LOCAL YOUTH MENTIONED IN YACHTING STORY

Beecher Hungerford, son of Mrs. A. R. Hungerford of this city, acting as boat's mate on the yacht "Viking," which was one of the winners in the Honolulu race of 1923, comes in for mention in a little book just off the press, called "The Viking Goes to Sea," and written by Albert Solland, M.D., admiral of the Pacific Coast Yachting Association, and skipper of the 54-foot yacht. The story is vividly told of the long voyage to Honolulu and return, a distance of 4691 miles in all. Some amusing experiences are detailed in the little volume, but through it all the mariners, composed entirely of business and professional men, proved their ability to manage their little craft successfully, for they won first place in class, third place in field, and third place in the return race to San Francisco.

FAMOUS BAND AT CAMP BALDY

The famous Roberts Golden State Band, which won the band championship of Southern California in May during Music Week, proved to be a great attraction over the week-end at the popular mountain resort, Camp Baldy. Both Saturday and Sunday concerts were given and the occasion was an auspicious one for it was the first time in the history of band music that a fifty-piece band had been featured amid the high mountains of the southland.

The Roberts organization has been very prominent of late, acting as official band for the national commander of the American Legion during his recent visit to Los Angeles; has also entertained the women of the General Federation at their recent biennial meeting, and has just returned this week from the Catalina Islands. On the Fourth of July the band will be featured at Lincoln Park in Los Angeles, both afternoon and evening.

SHRINERS INVITED

Shriners of Upland have been invited to attend a meeting to be held at the Masonic Temple, Pomona, Monday evening, July 7, to consider the formation of a Shrine Club. E. A. McGill is a member of the membership committee named by temporary organization which is in charge of plans for the meeting. Supper is to be served at 6:30, and an entertainment of unusual merit is to follow. The business session will conclude the evening. The formation of a Shrine Club has been discussed for years past and among local Shriners there is considerable enthusiasm for the movement. E. A. McGill is chairman, and J. A. Ludden secretary of the temporary organization.

The organization also includes Shriners of Ontario, Claremont, Chino, Pomona, La Verne, San Dimas, Charter Oak, Spadra and Walnut.

Soviet executions continue there unceasingly, many being for recently committed "economic offenses." It is said that adherents of Admiral Kolchak and Generals Denikin and Wrangel and former members of the Czarist Police, whose offenses date back to pre-revolutionary days, are still being put to death. The Soviet press reports only a very small proportion of the executions, it is said.

The Swede who had just come to this country thought it would be a fine idea to telephone his wife. He grasped the receiver and demanded: "I want my wife." "What number, please?" queried the gentle central. "Vail," he said, scratching his head, "she bane my second one."

A druggist was aroused one night by the violent ringing of his front door bell. Looking out of the window, he saw a young girl in evening dress.

"What's the matter, miss?" he asked. "Has anyone been taken ill?"

"Oh, no!" came back in sweet tones; "but I'm dancing at the ball close by, and I've run out of rope."

"Indeed!" snorted the disgruntled druggist. "I'm sorry, miss, but I never keep enough rope in stock to cover a cheek like yours!"

GREAT RESORT IS PLANNED FOR THE ARROWHEADSITE

GOVERNMENT LEASE OF FAMOUS HOT SPRINGS ENDS TO-DAY

L. A. Capitalists to Spend $3,000,000 to Rebuild Famous Property. Present Building To Be Razed, Plans Outlined

More than $3,000,000 will be spent during the next year in transforming the Arrowhead Hot Springs into Southern California's leading health resort, it was declared yesterday by Seth Marshall.

A group of Los Angeles capitalists with whom Mr. Marshall is affiliated, will take charge of the resort today, this being the first time in five years that the property has been under private control.

Government Lease Ended
Termination of the government lease was effected yesterday and most of the equipment has been taken from the different buildings to be sent to Arizona. The work of extensive improvements and rehabilitation will be started immediately, it was said by Mr. Marshall yesterday.

The Arrowhead Hot Springs Company has an authorized capital of $5,000,000, and represents a group of seven business men. Seth Marshall is president of the organization.

"The condition of the property at this time, after a four years' lease by the government, represents a wanton waste of much of the scenic beauty bordering on what appears willful destruction. However, neither money nor effort will be spared to make Arrowhead Hot Springs one of the most attractive resorts in this state," said Mr. Marshall.

Hotel To Be Renovated
This property was leased to the government for a hospital in 1920 by Mr. Marshall, and has since that time offered both aid and return to health of many soldiers who have been sent there from different points in the United States in an effort to recuperate health. The hot water mineral and mud baths of the institution are widely known for the benefits derived and the ideal location comprising 127 acres, offers one of the best scenic points in the state.

The large three story building, including a spacious lobby more than 200 feet in length, and the well-lighted and ventilated dining room, comprising nearly 500 square feet, with other large rooms of the building, will be altered, according to plans made by Mr. Marshall yesterday.

Although no definite plan was announced by Mr. Marshall or other members of the organization making up the Arrowhead Hot Springs Company, it is understood that in the work contemplated for the resort, a sum of more than $3,000,000 will be spent this year.

New Buildings are Planned
Included in the improvement project will be a new hotel to replace the present one, which will be a clubhouse, Sunken gardens, an artificial lake, the extensive planting of orchards and flowers, tennis courts, golf links, and other extensive improvements, are to be announced this week by the new management.

The group of business men representing the new ownership of Arrowhead Hot Springs, sponsored the financing organization of the Southern California Athletic Club. The Arrowhead Hot Springs, because of its ideal location and natural environments, is one of the strongest scenic attractions in California, and will bring thousands of persons from all cities in the United States to this resort.

NO FARM CENTER FAIR THIS YEAR

Recent tentative plans to hold the annual Chaffey Junior Farm Center Fair, postponed from last May on account of the hoof and mouth epidemic, in October, have again been altered, it was announced today following a meeting of the fair committee at the home of the general superintendent, Ernest Payne, 206 East California street. After considerable discussion, it was decided the better part of wisdom to postpone the event until the Spring, when every effort will be set forth to make it the world's greatest Junior Farm Center Fair.

In lieu of the autumn fair here, the Junior Farm Center fair committee voted to enter an especially fine exhibit at the Los Angeles County fair to be given in Pomona in the fall. This fair annually attracts thousands of visitors and a worthwhile exhibit there is expected to prove of considerable value to the local Junior Farm Center. The personnel of the Chaffey fair committee is as follows:

General Superintendent, E. A. Payne; business manager Chester Corry; cattle and dairy, George Reeder; swine, Frank Topf; sheep and

MRS. GLOVER IS GRANTED DIVORCE

After 43 years of married life, Mrs. Laura E. Glover, of Upland, was Monday morning granted a divorce in superior court from her husband, John M. Glover, on the grounds of infidelity.

E. W. Glover, their son, testified at the hearing. He and his mother told of seeing the other woman in the case, a professional woman of Upland, sitting on the lap of Mr. Glover at her home one night when they peeped in at an open window.

Mrs. Glover said that she had attempted to show her husband the fallacy of his ways and make him understand that the other woman in the triangle was after his money and did not love him. This she said he refused to believe declaring that the other woman would care for him if he had to go about in a wheel chair.

The plaintiff explained that she had asked for a previous suit for divorce against her husband to be dismissed when he promised to give the other woman up. Later, she declared he told her he could not give up "the other woman" and she had again filed suit.

A divorce was also granted Mrs. Hazel Beeman from Otho Beeman, of Upland, this morning in superior court, on grounds of non-support. Attorney A. D. Mitchell represented the plaintiff.

FORECAST BIG CITRUS YIELD

Exceedingly favorable 1925 citrus crop prospects were reported last week at the monthly meeting of the deputy horticultural commissioners. The inspectors from all county fruit-growing districts reported to J. P. Coy, county horticultural commissioner, that the navel, lemons, and grapefruit are all doing well.

The expected heavy June drop has not been as severe as was expected. While it is still too early to make accurate forecasts, indications are that the crop will be between 75 and 85 per cent of a full crop, with the eastern districts a bit heavier loaded.

Will Fumigate July 15
Fumigation will start in the Highland and Redlands districts about July 15. Progress of the pest control work in past years will allow some slackening of fumigation in these sectors as compared with the past two years.

West End groves, where different types of scale are encountered, are more spotted. The deciduous fruit crop is considerably below normal this year in yield and quality, a condition caused by the unusually dry weather.

In reference to the peach crop, Mr. Coy said:

"Fruit from the second bloom is falling off before ripening, and as a result the crop will be one of the lightest in the history of the county. This is disastrous to deciduous fruit ranchers, as the yield of fruit from the first bloom was also abnormally small."

Foliage of the peach trees, he said, was late in coming out this year. He attributes the fact to lack of moisture and other unfavorable weather conditions.

The apricot crop, however, it was reported, will be fully up to the average in both yield and quality. A majority of the canneries of the county are now operating in full force.

"Independence is being fought for in the Philippines not by natives in general, but a small clique of professional politicians," John L. Florida.

Miss Perrin has taught in the city schools for the past 13 years, having been two years at the old Monte Vista school and 11 years at Central. Miss Florence Baker, who holds an M. A. degree from Columbia University and a teacher's college certificate from the same institution, is to be the new principal at the South Euclid Avenue school, succeeding M. C. Clark. Miss Baker is also a graduate of the Kansas State Normal school and has taught for a score of years.

June Total Small

Twenty-nine permits issued during the month just closed represented an expenditure for new buildings in Ontario of $42,160, according to figures announced today at the office of City Building Inspector O. S. Roen. The month's total is the smallest here in three years, but local contractors are of the opinion that the present lack of building activity is the "dark hour before dawn."

The building total for the year to date now stands at $393,203 as compared to $588,315 for last season to date. Of the 29 permits issued during June, 14 were for new dwellings. The total number of permits issued for the year to date is 228 and the total number of new dwelling permits since Jan. 1, is now 117, indicating a goodly growth.

The new packing house of the West Ontario Citrus Association, the contract for which was recently let to the Campbell Construction Company for $80,000, is not included in the city's building total, since the structure will stand outside the city limits.

Several small permits were issued yesterday by Building Inspector Roen. A. Aranda is to erect a two-room cottage at 315 East Grove Street at a cost of $200; E. B. Williams is to add a sleeping porch to his dwelling, 620 East Fourth street, at a cost of $700; R. I. George is to alter a dwelling at Nevada street and Palm avenue at a cost of $600 and will erect a garage at the same address at a cost of $400.

Asks Damages

Charging carelessness on the part of the defendants, which resulted in a collision between their respective automobiles with the result that her own machine, as the third car in the mix-up, suffered damage in the amount of $90.68, Mrs. A. Mary Bowden Saturday filed suit for damages in Judge George R. Holbrook's court against George L. Gearhart, of Bon View Avenue and Washington Street; J. E. Kettering, M. E. Hannon, and others.

The accident, which resulted in damage to Mrs. Bowden's motor car, occurred March 4 last, on the Valley Boulevard near the city, according to the complaint.

In addition to the $90.68 damages, Mrs. Bowden asks $750 a day for the nine days she was deprived of her auto while it was undergoing repairs, or $6750. This makes the total amount asked $1518.18.

Mrs. Bowden is represented in her action by Attorney D. P. Gracia and Clifford P. Gracia of Los Angeles. No date has been fixed for the hearing.

Tells Early History

"Ontario a Long Time Ago" was the subject of an interesting talk by Charles Frankish, well-known Ontario pioneer, before the members of the Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon at Hotel Casa Blanca Friday afternoon. Mr. Frankish, who took an active part in the early development of Ontario, recited many interesting personal experiences and exhibited pictures taken in the infancy of the city, which emphasized forcibly the splendid growth of the community.

Dr. Ralph L. Alexander, Kiwanis president, opened the meeting and Fred H. Wallihan presided as chairman of the day. Community singing was led by Eugene Moore, and in the absence of Everett Simpson, official musician, Lo J. Klimes presided at the piano.

Heart Trouble Cause

Inquest over the body of Lino Castaneda, 45 years old, was held Saturday afternoon by Coroner J. B. Hanna, disclosing death from hypertrophy of the heart with acute dilation.

Castaneda was found dead in his bed at his home in East Belmont Avenue, Saturday morning. He appeared perfectly well when he retired Friday night, according to those where he lived. Captain Arthur Axley was first called to

INDOOR LEAGUE BALL SCHEDULE AT REDONDO SOON

Those interested in the indoor baseball league now running on the Y.M.C.A. grounds in Ontario, corner C and Laurel, will no doubt appreciate a copy of the schedule for the remaining games. Following is a copy of same, and it would be well for those interested to cut it out and paste on cardboard for a handy reference.

Last night's games resulted in the Ontario Merchants defeating the Truck Drivers by the lop-sided score of 7 to 1 in the first game, but the second game between the Lemon Growers of Upland and the Kiwanis Club proved to be a real game. The score was tied at the end of the regular play, and two extra innings had to be played before the Upland team won out by a 6 to 5 score.

You could never convince the average small boy that teachers are not paid enough.

A lot of men who can work only eight hours a day concede that in this respect their wives are their superiors by about eight hours.

A physician says dancing is a disease. If he can convince the world of that, he'll lose a lot of patients.

WELCOME SUMMER AT REDONDO SOON

The grand opening of the summer season took place on Saturday and Sunday, June 28 and 29, at Redondo Beach.

A special free entertainment was put on in the afternoon Saturday, followed by a Carnival Ball in the pavilion in the evening, and on Sunday, band concerts, soloists and vaudeville were featured.

Every Wednesday during the summer there will be a big free vaudeville show in the music plaza and free dancing in the pavilion for all kiddies. Free souvenirs for all boys and girls.

There will be band concerts, soloists and vaudeville, Sundays and holidays, and special attractions put on from time to time during the season.

For picnickers there is no better place than Redondo Beach, as tables, seats and free gas are provided and the location is ideal, overlooking the ocean.

Fishing is one of the most popular sports, motor boats carrying passengers make frequent trips daily from the pier to the fishing grounds, and those who are afraid to risk the chance of sea sickness can always find lots of sport in fishing from the piers.

Judging from the divorces, it's a wonder that Hymen doesn't fire Cupid.

A diploma is like diplomacy—it seldom tells what a fellow can do. Fishermen are not the laziest men. Some men are too lazy to fish.

Be careful where you put your confidence and you won't lose it.

A verbal agreement with some persons is not worth the words required to make it.

The best way to avoid financial consternation is to practice financial conservation.

American juries have demonstrated that the unpardonable sin is a myth.

The reason why a pessimist doesn't commit suicide is because he knows it would end his misery.

Many supposedly erudite gentlemen are merely persons who have nothing to say and never say it.

About the only sure way of getting respite from bores is to have them sent up for 30 days.
